

I. W. W.'S HELD FOR RAIDS ON PEACE DAY PARADE

MINERS, OWNERS, AGREE TO ATTEND CONFERENCE FRIDAY

RELEASE OF COAL TO MEET EMERGENCY NEEDS IS BEGUN.

WORK RESUMED

Order Calling Off Strike Expected to Be Disputed in Some Sections.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, Nov. 12.—Thomas T. Brewster, chairman of the coal operators' scale committee, announced today that the mine owners had accepted Secretary Wilson's invitation to meet representatives of the miners here Friday to negotiate a new wage agreement.

"We will be there," said he.

John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, already had notified Secretary Wilson of his acceptance, meanwhile declining an offer from Brewster to meet the latter's committee here Friday to negotiate a contract to be in force upon the termination of the contract now in effect.

Spokesmen for the miners said today that the proposition could not be considered for a moment, and that the only way to bring peace to the coal fields was through the adoption of a pay scale to take effect immediately.

Mr. Lewis telegram made public.

Mr. Lewis telegram accepting Secretary Wilson's invitation was made public today by the secretary. It follows:

"Your telegram even date inviting scale committee central committee field and representatives of all bituminous districts involved in strike, to meet with you next Friday at Washington is received. Your message was submitted to our conference now in session in Indianapolis and I am authorized to say representatives of mine workers will be present on that date."

Release of coal to meet emergency needs was begun today by the railroad administration's central committee.

There is some shortage of coal in the southwest, Mr. Lewis said, but the coal now being released in that direction the emergency will soon be met.

Orders have gone out from the railroad administration to all federal managers which will turn thousands of empty coal cars again toward the mines.

Work Resumed Extensively.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Resumption of work in the country's bituminous coal mines today was expected to be extensive, but not on a scale that would permit anything like normal production, according to spokesmen of United Mine Workers of America.

In some sections the miners were expected to dispute the authority of the order, calling off the strike. The order, according to the Illinois Federation of Labor, that "if the position of the government is such that the freedom of contract and the entire issue might as well be fought out now, there is no such thing as freedom of contract and the entire issue might as well be fought out now."

Illinois Situation Complicated.

The situation in Illinois fields was complicated further by the possibility of insurgents who caused trouble last summer renewing their activities, according to union spokesmen.

In Kansas, where 10,000 men normally are employed, unrest was said to prevail and it was doubtful that state, to say the least, would see every considerable resumption of production.

That many of the miners would return to work was notably in Alabama and Texas fields and parts of the Ohio and Pennsylvania coal areas. The situation was doubtful in other parts of the last two states and in Iowa, Maryland, West Virginia, Indiana, Colorado, Oklahoma, Arkansas and others.

Martial Law in Dakota.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 12.—Gov. Lynn J. Frazier early today declared martial law in the mining districts of North Dakota and announced he would take over the lignite coal mines of the state, closed by a strike of the miners.

In proclamation the governor ordered Adjutant General Frazier to assume charge of the mining and industry of the state, to see that the mines were re-opened at once and that the people of the state are supplied with coal as soon as possible.

Adjutant General Frazier was instructed to call on all male persons of the state between the ages of 18 and 45 and that he deemed necessary to control the situation.

How Go Back to Work.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 12.—Kana who coal field miners did not obey the orders of their leaders and return to work early today.

Deputy sheriff acting on an executive warrant issued by Governor Cornell, today seized a quantity of arms and ammunition in a mining village in the Cabin Creek district today.

Nine rifles and 1,000 rounds of ammunition were seized.

Strike Is Not Ended.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 12.—Warren S. Stone, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers declared today that the "bituminous coal strike" was not settled despite the acceptance of the mandate of the court.

"The time has not yet come when the government of this country can be conducted by the injunction process," said Stone.

Miners Await Stevenson

Bay City, Mich., Nov. 12.—Twenty four hundred miners employed in Michigan's 15 coal mines are awaiting the return of Warren S. Stevenson, district president, United Mine Workers, to determine whether they will resume work.

REDS ARE COAXING ON POLICY OF CLOSED DOOR, SAYS HOOVER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Buffalo, Nov. 12.—The American people are growing impatient with foreign agitators and unless their attitude changes the door that has been open to Europe may be shut, Herbert Hoover declared here today in an address at the convention of Americans of Polish ancestry.

Mr. Hoover outlined the progress of the Polish people resulting from the establishment of free government, told the audience what they could do to maintain the new Polish republic and reminded them of their duties to the country of their adoption.

"Many foolish ideas are being circulated among the foreign born population of the United States," Mr. Hoover said. "Many of these foreign born are interesting themselves in the destruction of our primary institutions and defiance of our laws. The American people are fast losing patience with this attitude. It may develop out of this that the 'open door' towards Europe will be, in a large measure, closed."

There, there may develop out of it a prejudice against every speaker of a foreign language in the United States. It creates prejudice against the foreign born and the people of the United States who are supporting them.

Adjutant General Frazier was instructed to call on all male persons of the state between the ages of 18 and 45 and that he deemed necessary to control the situation.

FIRST DAY OF DRIVE FOR COLLEGES NETS $2,500 FOR 5 YEARS

Solicitors in Janesville's share in the campaign of the Wisconsin Colleges Associated to raise their quota of $30,000 a year for five years reported good progress made yesterday, the first day of the campaign.

A sum amounting to $2,500 a year for five years was announced as the work accomplished yesterday. Reports from all teams were not complete but it is thought that close to $3,000 was the amount secured yesterday.

Noon luncheons are being served to the team captains and workers at the M. C. A. at 12:15 each day.

It is requested that all members of the teams and the captains be present at the luncheon tomorrow noon.

While all of the signatures of the closure petition were due until Friday morning, according to word received this morning, the postponement became necessary because of a flu outbreak.

Dr. Melvin A. Brannon, president of Beloit college and W. H. Perigo will have charge of that drive.

VETS' LEGION ADOPTS ANTI-RED PROGRAM

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Minneapolis, Nov. 12.—Declaration placing the American Legion on record against anti-American propaganda and activities were adopted at the legion convention here today.

The convention adopted a resolution demanding adoption of a federal constitutional amendment barring from citizenship the American born and foreign born who are "enemies of our institutions."

Demanding deportation of alien slackers and enemy aliens interned during the war, with selective admission of foreigners.

Authorizing appointment of a legion committee to spread the teaching of the legion's doctrine of "100 percent Americanism" among veterans of the war and aliens in this country.

Demanding a change in the department of justice from a passive organization to a militant, active branch whose directions will be promptly carried out by the executive authority.

Leonard Worthington, Hawaii, former Harvard football star, was author of the Americanism program adopted by the convention as the chief resolution to combat anti-American propaganda by teaching American ideals.

The convention asked that war department officials responsible for "tender treatment of conscientious objectors" who were aliens be summarily dealt with.

Greeted by a real northwest winter morning, the legion delegates were half an hour behind their morning program schedule, being called to order at 9:30. Only the business sessions of the convention were scheduled for today and leaders hoped to complete the work of the convention by tonight.

DEMOCRATS PETITION FOR CLOTURE RULE TO SPEED TREATY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, Nov. 12.—A movement to limit senate debate on the peace treaty by invoking the cloture rule was inaugurated today by democratic leaders. A petition for cloture, requiring 16 signatures for submission, was circulated here today. The petition was signed by more than double the necessary number.

Some republican leaders said they would support the democratic cloture proposal, which had been circulated after consultation between leaders of both parties.

When the petition would be presented was not determined by the administration leaders.

Adoption of cloture requires a two-thirds vote while all of the signatures of the closure petition were due until Friday morning, according to word received this morning, the postponement became necessary because of a flu outbreak.

Dr. Melvin A. Brannon, president of Beloit college and W. H. Perigo will have charge of that drive.

KRAMER IS NAMED U. S. COMMISSIONER TO ENFORCE PROHIBITION LAW

PLANS FOR ENFORCEMENT OF PROHIBITION ARE MADE PUBLIC.

NATION IS DIVIDED

Units of Federal Agent's Headquarters Established About Country.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, Nov. 12.—John F. Kramer, an attorney at Janesville, Ohio, has been appointed federal prohibition commissioner in direct charge of the enforcement of prohibition time and constitutional prohibition.

Mr. Kramer, who formerly was a member of the Ohio legislature, telegraphed the appointment and accepting the appointment and announcing that he would begin his duties next week.

The commissioner will work under the bureau of internal revenue and will have charge of the field force which will be used in enforcing both the temporary and constitutional dry laws.

Prohibition Plans Published.

Daniel C. Roper, commissioner of internal revenue, today made public plans for enforcement of prohibition. Mr. Kramer will have as aides an executive field force of nine supervising federal prohibition agents and a prohibition director in each state.

The supervising federal agents will have jurisdiction over nine territorial units into which the country has been divided.

Under the direction of these supervising agents will be a mobile force of federal agents which will be sent from one point to another as conditions warrant.

Headquarters of the supervising federal agent, although not definitely decided, probably will be located as follows:

Albany, N. Y.; New York city; Richmond, Va.; Philadelphia; Atlanta; Chicago; Omaha; Little Rock; San Francisco. The department will extend its jurisdiction over units or units over which their jurisdiction will be known as the northern, southern, central, northeastern, southern gulf, central, northwestern, southwestern, and Pacific.

States included in each department follow:

Northeastern—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, and New York state excepting greater New York city and Long Island.

New York, Greater New York city and Long Island, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Eastern—New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

Southern—Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Gulf—Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana.

Central—Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Northwestern—Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Wyoming.

Southwestern—Missouri, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico.

Central—California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Utah and Nevada.

Poland to Invite Russian Conference

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] London, Nov. 12.—Before inviting Belgium to host a peace conference, Poland, according to a Warsaw correspondent, hopes to obtain assurance that its plan will be supported not only by the Russians, but by the great powers, especially the United States.

The proposal, it is said, will be accompanied by a declaration of Poland's complete disinterestedness toward all the contending parties, and of her readiness to submit the question of the Russo-Polish frontier to the conference.

Premier of Hungary Is Delivered Ultimatum

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Paris, Nov. 12.—The allies have taken energetic measures to solve the Hungarian political situation, according to reports from Budapest.

Sir George Clerk, the allied emissary, has delivered on behalf of the supreme council, it is stated, an ultimatum to Premier Fredeirick, notifying him that a coalition cabinet must be formed within 48 hours or that he must retire from the premiership.

WHY NOT HAVE A NEW HOTEL?

Janesville sent out word to the world a few weeks ago that a new hotel was to be built here. A committee was organized to solicit stock subscriptions after more than $200,000 of the proposed $450,000 needed for the purchase of a site and erection of a building had been underwritten by a few men of means. Since then the soliciting committee has been at work, but according to vague information the Gazette can obtain, little progress has been made in obtaining the remainder of the money.

What is the difficulty? That question is asked every day by those who are interested in having a modern hotel built which will serve the needs of those who come to us in large numbers every day. Answers are speculative because the public has not been taken into the confidence of the gentlemen who have the job of soliciting funds.

The public—and that means the taxpayers, business men, and citizens who have pride in the city—is interested in getting a hotel suitable to meet Janesville's needs, as soon as possible. No doubt if publicity is given the project many men and women who have not been considered as possible purchasers of stock would be glad of an opportunity to buy a few shares. They do not understand. They have been led to believe, perhaps by the secrecy with which the matter appears to have been clothed, that the hotel proposition is to be engineered by a few and is not the concern of the many.

At the time the matter first came up, the impression was given out that it WAS the concern of the citizens and that the committee would make a solicitation of all who felt disposed to invest in stock. This evidently has not been done. Perhaps the committee has not seen fit to accept subscriptions for stock except in large blocks.

The erection of a modern hotel is an immediate necessity. When it is ready for occupancy it will be crowded. Anyone who buys stock will no doubt realize safe returns from any investment that is made. That has been conceded by those who have carefully considered the matter. Why not put the remaining stock to be sold on the market at $100 per share and let the fellow with a few hundred dollars invest? He would get a good return on his money and he would be one of the hotel's boosters. He would feel a pride in the hotel and the city. No doubt there are many men and women who would willingly subscribe under such conditions. It should make no difference how many stockholders there are as long as the money is subscribed NOW. Several valuable weeks have slipped away and instead of Janesville having a hotel well on the way to completion, the interest has been lost. Not a spadeful of earth has been turned. About all one can hear are rumors about where the proposed hotel will be located.

Men are coming into Janesville every day seeking hotel accommodations. The present houses are filled to capacity every night. Halls are filled, many are sent to private residences. One man slept at the county jail because he could not find a room after a lodge meeting. Another man is said to have slept in a factory because he could not get a bed any other place. Every train leaving Janesville late in the afternoon is crowded with people who cannot find rooms. They go to Madison and Beloit.

People are coming to Janesville from all over the United States every week. Their impressions of the city are not good when they find they cannot get hotel accommodations. A city is judged by its hotels.

Can the business men of this city—the citizens of Janesville—afford to let the hotel project slide along in its present state any longer?

We do not believe they can. They are losing money and each day's delay means the loss of more.

Cannot we all pull together for a new hotel? If the committee in charge of soliciting funds needs more help, it is safe to predict that men who have made every campaign conducted for funds in Janesville a success, will be glad to organize and clean up the deficit in a short time.

Let us get into our stride on this matter.

"BETTER DEAL" FOR FARMERS DEMANDED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 12.—A number of important questions concerning the war and the economy of their products were before the national grange for consideration when the fifty-third annual convention opened here today.

Among the subjects to be brought before the convention, which continues 10 days, are the labor situation, speaking in foodstuffs, rationing, distribution, extension of the rural free delivery, and the immigration laws.

A "better deal" is to be demanded for the farmer, some of the officers asserted. A plan for fixing the price of farm products closely following the cost of production, as determined by the government in war contracts has been outlined for presentation to the convention.

Sixty-five delegates representing 3,000 farmers in 33 states and 3,000 visitors are here for the meeting.

CONGRESS WARNED OF ARMED UPRISING TO OVERTHROW U. S.

REPRESENTATIVE DESCRIBES CENTRALIA TROUBLE AS REVOLUTION.

4 SOLDIERS SHOT

Alleged I. W. W.'s Fire on Ex-Service Men; Troops Patrol City.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Spokane, Wash., Nov. 12.—The Industrial Workers of the World are preparing to launch from their headquarters here a propaganda campaign through out the northwest and perhaps through the entire west in the near future, was the declaration here today of officials of the department of justice. So far, they said, no orders to proceed against them have been received.

Congress Is Warned.

Washington, Nov. 12.—The shooting of four ex-service men in an Armistice day parade in Centralia, Wash., was described in the House today by Representative Johnson, Washington, chairman of the immigration committee, as "an attempt at revolution with bullets and rifles, which the country has long feared."

Mr. Johnson sent a telegram to Mayor Rogers, Centralia, saying the country "must be purged of seditionists and revolutionists, to the last one, and if this means war, the quicker it was declared the better."

"History will record these heroes as among the first to fall in an attempt at armed revolution against the United States and for which every man who has been preaching syndicalism, communism, and class hatred is responsible."

10 Held in Jail.

Centralia, Wash., Nov. 12.—Nine alleged Industrial Workers of the World were held in jail here at 8 o'clock today. The men were rounded up yesterday and last night after the firing on the Armistice day parade.

Company J, Third regiment, national guard of Washington, which arrived here early today from Tacoma, went on patrol duty in many parts of the city.

The reason for the attack, which came as the head of the parade swung past I. W. W. headquarters, had never been developed fully.

Citizens today planned to drive all radicals from Centralia, where they have been increasing in number since the war. Headquarters for Lewis county, Industrial Workers operating from here in the logging camps and other places in the vicinity, were active in the attack.

Confesses Plans for Attack.

One of 20 men arrested yesterday and last night in the sweeping search for I. W. W. following the attack, was today confessed to have been in the attack.

Warren Grimm and Arthur McElfresh, two of the four killed in the attack, were today identified by witnesses. The four had been active in suppressing radical activities in this community.

Without warning bursts of rifle fire swept the ranks of marching overseas veterans as they paraded past I. W. W. headquarters. From that building, machine guns and bullet belts were fired.

Persons in the crowds that lined the street to honor the returned heroes also pulled weapons and began firing.

Grimm, leading a company of men, dropped mortally wounded. McElfresh, marching in the ranks, was wounded, and Ben Casagrande died later from his wounds.

Four Fall Wounded.

John Earl Watt, George Stevens, Jacob P. Hiltner, and Arthur McElfresh, the four who were shot when he attempted to disarm an I. W. W. standing in the street, were today identified by witnesses.

Dale Hubbard, recently returned overseas man, gathered a small band and started after the I. W. W. who were trying to disarm him.

Another pursuer overpowered Smith and he was taken to jail, later to be removed and taken to the hospital. Hubbard and the fugitive were today identified by witnesses.

Smith was tossed from a bridge over the Chehalis river after a rope was tied about his neck and a volley of bullets sent into his body.

In darkness while talking him from the jail. At 7:30 o'clock all the I. W. W. men except one were cut off the jail and rushed to the hospital.

Little was known of Smith. He came here a short time ago. Smith's body and what disposal of it would be made was unknown early today.

Clashes between the I. W. W. and Centralia citizens have occurred at intervals during the last two years. The first trouble occurred when a Red Cross bazaar.

No More Rife, Says Governor.

Governor Bailey today was enroute to the capital from the eastern part of the state.

His only statement was, "There will be no mob law in Centralia. From Yakima today came a report that members of the American Legion were discussing formation of a secret order within the legion designed to combat radicalism."

WISCONSIN COLLEGES.

The men and women who are conducting the campaign for $5,000,000 to be used for maintenance of Wisconsin colleges have a business proposition to offer which cannot be cast aside without careful consideration. It is not an idealistic effort on the part of impractical men. It is an attempt to perpetuate institutions which have in the past and will in the future do much in building up our home and business life.

The state university this year has all it can handle in the way of students. The colleges associated in this campaign for funds are likewise experiencing large enrollment. This is an indication that these schools are needed. That need need not be argued.

Let us see what the proposition is. Subscriptions are payable in 10 semi-annual installments covering a period of five years. Thus the movement might be regarded as five successive annual $1,000,000 campaigns.
The advantage of that method is that the money is pledged and the future of the colleges assured. A subscription of $250, for instance, would mean 10 payments of $25 each. That certainly is not a burden on the man or woman who can make a subscription.

The question has been asked: "Why the campaign of the Wisconsin Colleges Associated?"

So that the pay of the professors may be in keeping with the dignity and importance of the field of education; so that the greatest number of students who ever sought education in any one year in Wisconsin may not be turned away because facilities are lacking; so that colleges may be set on a firm financial foundation and their attention turned solely to education, instead of raising money.

It is a proposition elementally simple. First, the old dollar of their endowment is worth but 47 cents. Second, they are called upon to do more work than their pre-war endowments contemplated. Either would require more funds. The two of them, conspiring together, comprise a crisis.

Let us look at the proposition from the taxpayer's angle. If the students of the Wisconsin Colleges Associated were gathered on one campus, they would make up an institution about the size of the University of Wisconsin. It costs the state in taxes, approximately $500 a year to give the student the benefit of a university training. There are now 6,000 students attending the members of the Wisconsin Colleges Associated. If their education were to be paid through taxation, it would require $3,000,000 annually from the state treasury. Taxation for higher education would be practically doubled. The private colleges save the taxpayer this expense.

After all it is a good investment—not because of the money saved, but because it affords our future men and women the opportunity to prepare for their places in our commonwealth.

WE'D ALL LIKE TO RAISE COTTON.

With spot cotton selling at 29 to 43 cents a pound,
the New York Times says that the American Cotton association is advising planters to hold back 2,000,000 bales to force the price still higher. Before the war, cotton sold for 10 to 14 cents a pound. These figures will be illuminating to hard-pressed folk who find the soaring price of cotton cloth one of the burdensome features of the reign of old H. C. of L. There are some beneficiaries, however.

A group of men in a smoking car, all of whom knew something of conditions in the cotton states from personal observations, were exchanging anecdotes. "A Colored woman, wife of the owner of a small farm, went into a music store in a large southern city, and asked to look at pianos," so one related. "The proprietor showed her pianos selling at $350 to $400. 'I want to see the best piano you've got,' said the woman, and the dealer led her to a $750 instrument. 'I've got a little girl six years old,' explained the customer, 'and I'm going to make a musician of her.'

"Ought you to spend $750?" asked the piano man.
"Perhaps the child will not take to music. One of these pianos at $350 would give you good service." But the woman bought the $750 piano with cotton money. "The dealer could have sold her a $1,000 piano just as easily."

"I'll go you one better," said another man in the group. "I heard of a colored man who did well in cotton, and he bought three pianos, one for each of his daughters."

"Yes, the colored folks are buying automobiles and hiring chauffeurs to run them," said another man.
"These are good times for the South; that more than make up for the old 'Buy a bale' days."

Perhaps we'd all be profiteers if we had the chance.

OUR ATTITUDE IS ALL-IMPORTANT.

Senator Lodge's program of treaty reservations is now going through merrily, and in a few days more we shall have reached the ratification stage. Evidently, the final result will be a compromise, with no one entirely satisfied. Even the middle-ground republicans, who are bridging the gap between the democrats and the Lodge group and making ratification possible, can hardly be satisfied with the tone of the reservations.

We are going into the League of Nations in a guarded and half-hearted sort of way, with doubt and distrust manifest in every line of the reservations. It is contended that our distrust is grounded on the selfishness and greed of our recent allies. That such lamentable tendencies have been evinced by the European victors, no one can doubt or deny. Italy, Roumania, and even France and Great Britain have been out for all the material advantages they could get, witness operations in Flume, Hungary, Syria, Persia and Egypt.

We must not forget, however, that what we most want is lasting peace. Just how long peace will last will depend largely on the attitude of the United States.
If we engage heartily and in an unmistakable manner to move with our full power against any disturber, it is likely that other nations will refrain carefully from making any serious disturbance.

Would Germany have forced war had she known that Britain and America would come in?

Our attitude toward the league should not be influenced so much by the petty acts of some of the allies, as by our own desire to play the big, manly, and forceful part in world affairs.

HEADS UP; FEET DOWN.

In days of crisis men develop a tendency to talk in extremes, in street cars, in hotel lobbies, in the streets, the opinions heard are more often than not decided and exaggerated. The average man would say that his fellows are divided chiefly into two classes: those who think the country is going to the howlows, and those who decry the existence of either fault or menace.

JUST FOLKS

Edgar A. Guest

ABOUT GRUMBLERS.

I hear men whimper and complain
About the way the world is run.
On sunny days they sigh for rain
An' when it rains they want the sun.
"If we were runnin' things," they say,
"There'd be much less of grief an' wrong."
"We'd keep the clouds of care away
An' life would be one round of song."

Yet in the homes where they abide
As lords an' masters day by day,
The women folks are sorely tried,
The children are not always gay;
The grounds are often bleak an' bare;
The roses struggling for the fence
Don't seem to show the tender care
Of notable intelligence.

I've never found a grumbler yet
Whose dealings with his fellow man
Were free from error or regret
Or shaped to any faultless plan.
Within his territory small,
An' on the round he daily makes,
Where he is lord an' boss of all
I notice that he makes mistakes.

So when I hear such man complain
About the way the Hand Divine
Orders the shining an' the rain,
Ian' regulates each tree an' vine,
I look around an' try to see
The kind of work that he has done
An' I'm as glad as I can be
He doesn't have the world to run.

There is need for an energetic class between these two,
for men who will keep their heads erect in the ideal and their feet firmly planted in the actual. It is neither necessary nor wise to shut our eyes to the fact that we are facing a crisis—a crisis with many unpleasant pos-nothing beyond but black despair. The man who keeps his eyes on the mire and the man who gets his feet off

The nation is sound at heart and our democracy will ever be as impregnable as public opinion is intelligent their heads above the daily surge to see these eternal truths. The citizen worth while is not he who loses hope, nor he who shuts his eyes to danger. Let us have frank admission that there are evils; let us seek them out resolutely and meet them energetically.

Let us keep our heads up and our feet down.

The Lost Game

Problem of Navy Personnel

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN, Director
Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau,
Washington, D. C.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—The American navy is facing a personnel emergency of considerable proportions.

It is attempting to find 170, 000 lusty young Americans who are willing to serve aboard ship under the Stars and Stripes for 36 months, with board, room and clothing. It is attempting to do this in the face of the fact that an associated experience, educational and the shipping board, pays the same men $100 a month and keep for the same work. It is attempting to do so in the face of the fact that industry is bidding against industry through the land for skillful hands at high wages.

In November, 1918, the time of the signing of the armistice, there were in the navy, roughly, 500,000 men.
Of this number 215,000 were regular navy men and 285,000 were naval reserves. Nearly all of these were enlisted for the duration of the war.
Already the recruiting campaign was a great scramble to get out of the service as soon as the war was over. But the navy and army were the task of bringing the boys home, and it was therefore unable to release its duration-of-the-war men immediately. It figured out a scheme for the navy, and the army was the force to disintegrate as rapidly as the men could be spared, but not so rapidly as to interfere with its important tasks. It planned that it would have 250,000 men in the service in July 1919; 191,000 in October; 170,000 in January, 1920, and 143,000 on July of that year. And it figured the navy would be back to normal.

110,000 Enlisted Men in Navy
As a matter of fact it has let men go much faster than was provided for in the schedule, and there are but 110,000 enlisted men in the navy today. There are 10,000 more duration-of-the-war men ready for release, men who are being cleared from shore work as clearing the North sea of mines and the operation of transports. By the time they are out there will be 5,000 new recruits to take their place which will bring the navy enlisted personnel down to 105,000 which is regarded as the bed rock figure. From then on the lists are expected to grow smaller. Already the recruiting campaign of the navy is being pushed vigorously and new men are being introduced into the service at the rate of 6,000 a month. The fleet is ready to take 120,000 men who are now in the service by no means thoroughly trained. Of them 44,000 veterans know the game, and 6,000 are men who have been recruited since the signing of the armistice and who, therefore, are in various stages of development as trained seamen. The rest of them are the new recruits and establishment, chiefly at the training stations, while 70,000 or so are at sea.

Because of the obvious difficulties that face the navy in holding on to its men and getting more recruits under present industrial conditions, many more or less alarming stories have been told to the effect that our great naval battleships were rusting at the wharves of our navy yards for the lack of men to operate them. It has been said that in case of trouble none of our great dreadnaughts could put to sea and give battle to the enemy.

Navy Doubled Since War
Those who regard 110,000 men in the navy as a mere skeleton of a fighting force should bear in mind that during those months of 1917 which preceded the declaration of war, the navy personnel amounted to but 55,000, which is half its present numerical strength. To be sure, we have many more ships than we had in 1917, but those ships are mostly destroyers and other vessels which require a small complement of men. One hundred men can operate a destroyer, and fight her successfully, while it takes 1,800 to man the flag ship Pennsylvania. It is therefore, probable that the navy is better manned today than it was in those years before the war.

Half the American fleet is today in the Pacific, and the other half are the giants of the great Pacific fleet. These ships of 32,000 tons and the great fleet of battleships are the greatest fleet of the world today. These ships and the other of the new and first-class fighting craft of the United States are kept manned up to the fighting strength and ready for action. The strength and ready for action. The thought is for the vessels that would be able to give best account of themselves in case of an emergency and for the auxiliaries that would support them. Such vessels are kept ready for action and, even though the man power were much lower than it is today, such vessels would be able to meet any feet in the world and give a good account of themselves.

America has vessels fully manned that make up a fleet of greater tonnage and greater numerical strength than that of any other nation in the world except Great Britain. The time of the signing of the armistice there were more men in the American navy than in the British navy and it is doubtful today

A PARTY.

We had a fire in the furnace,
And we let it go down
Until it was a mass of live coals.
The neighbors we had invited
Began to arrive.
The party numbered 25.
The husbands were all clean
And we gathered round
The furnace.
Then we took slabs of Fine porterhouse steak
And broiled them.
The steak we bought Weighed 30 pounds.
So that everybody could have Enough to eat.
As the steak broiled
And we turned it,
The juice oozed out and fell
Into the coals and the odor
Was delicious.
The steak was as tender
As a Mary Pickford love story.
And the slabs of steak
Disappeared as if by magic.
Then there were doughnuts
And cider and three salads
And pumpkin pie.
The pleasant time was had.
It was a large evening.
Let's see. That was just

The Gazette maintains an information bureau at Washington, D. C., under the direction of Frederic J.
Haskin. Questions will be answered on any subject. Those desiring information may write a letter to the Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau, Washington, D. C., and enclose a stamp. The letter will be answered by the bureau.

Q. What is the age limit of alligators and lions? C. P. G.

A. Alligators have been known to live 70 years. Authorities differ as to the age limit of lions. Some biologists fix the normal span of a lion's life at about 22 years. A lion which died in the Tower of London in 1760 had lived in captivity over 70 years.

Q. How are Panama hats made?
N. I.

A. These hats are made from the immature, unexpanded leaves of the stemless cordyline plant, which is sometimes called "pajapa." This plant grows in Central America and Columbia, and has also been introduced into Java and the Philippines. The soft part of the leaves are removed and the fibers soaked to render it pliable. The weaving is done under water and the most valuable hats are made of single leaves.

Q. Were the parents of Premier Lloyd-George of England wealthy?
D. E. H.

A. David Lloyd-George was brought up by his uncle, who was a shoemaker. The uncle stunted himself in order to give his nephew an opportunity to study law and other subjects. The premier became a solicitor at the age of 14.

Q. Who was Queen Elizabeth of Belgium before her marriage to King
Albert? F. V. N.

A. She was Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria.

Q. Were chaplains allowed to preach their particular creeds in the army? L. I. A.

A. It was a ruling of the war department that all chaplains appointed to the American expeditionary force should profess no particular creed and should not allow any creeds or denominational differences to appear in their work. Perfect freedom was given to Roman Catholic priests to administer to those of their own faith.

Q. What is gold stone? M. B.

A. It is a sort of an opal, a gold-on brown glass filled with minute crystals of a bright gold color and of various sizes. It is used for ornamental purposes. The stone was accidentally discovered at Murano, near Venice, Italy, when a quantity of brass filings dropped into a pot of molten glass.

Q. Is it possible for one person to hold two government positions at the same time? R. A. C.

A. A man may hold two positions under the government providing the combined salaries do not exceed $2,000.

Q. Is congress considering increasing the pension of civil war veterans? B. K. I.

A. A bill by Congressman Fuller of Illinois to increase the pension of civil war veterans is now pending in congress. Under the terms of this bill the monthly pension of a Civil war veteran would be $50 flat. The pension for total disability would be $72, and that for loss of limbs from $60 to $90.

Q. At what hour was the armistice signed? P. O'R.

A. The armistice was signed at 5
a. m. French time, on the morning of November 11. This would be equivalent to midnight, Washington time.

Q. What is a harmless way to bleach the skin? R. A.

A. Lemon juice is recognized as one of the safest skin bleachers known. Cut the lemon in half and apply as a massage.

Q. How many American soldiers married abroad? C. R. F.

A. Nearly 3,600 war brides returned to this country with members of the American expeditionary force.
Of this total three-fifths of the number were French, one-fifth English, and the other 50 scattered among 21 nationalities. The brides ranged 16 to 55 years of age.

Have we got them?

EAGLES PAY HONOR TO SERVICE MEN IN ANNUAL CEREMONY

Tribute to the soldiers who gave their lives in the great war was paid by Janesville Aerie 724, Fraternal Order of Eagles, last night at their club rooms at a flag ceremony and home-coming service for the service men of the order, with their wives and women friends, were guests at a dinner served between 6 and 7 o'clock. The repast which was prepared by the Woman's Auxiliary was excellent. One vacant chair was placed at the banquet board in honor of Fred T. Mulligan, the only member of the local aerie to lose his life in battle. It was decorated with lilies and poppies. Corporal Mulligan was killed in England in 1915.

The flag ceremony which is held on Armistice day in all Eagle aeries in the United States and Canada, was conducted by the officers of the local aerie and served as one of the most impressive features of the evening's program.

Mayor Makes Address
Mayor T. E. Welsh gave an address on the flag and followed by a brief report on the splendid work done by the Janesville lodge during the war. He complimented the membership and expressed the desire to see an even larger proportion during the next year.

J. J. Cunningham also told of the work done by the Eagles and thanked the members who had prepared the banquet for the service men.

Elbert D. Weed, Oshkosh, grand worthy president of the order gave an address upon the growth and ambitions of the order and assured Janesville aerie that it would have little difficulty in increasing the present membership of 360 to 1,000 within a short time. He was optimistic over the growth of the aerie and asked the present members to obtain a large class so he could come to the city again and assist in the initiation.

Opportunity is Here
"You have a splendid opportunity here in Janesville," said Mr. Weed. "Your city is growing and the class of people who are coming here can see the benefits of it. It is estimated that the order has 400,000 members at the present time and that 25 percent of that membership is composed of working men."

"Our organization made a wonderful record during the war as you are aware. I have known of a single Eagle who was not a hundred percent American. If I ever do hear of one who was not I will see that he is expelled from the order at once."

"The Eagles have paid out $1,250,000 to dependents of soldiers during the two years the United States was in the war. This sum was raised by a small weekly assessment. It has proved a Godsend to many who lost their bread-winners and would have been lost to do if they had not received aid from the Eagles."

Beautifully Decorated
The hall was beautifully decorated with poppies, lilies and other flowers and plants and formed an attractive setting for the dinner which followed the flag ceremony. The decorations were arranged by Messrs. Joyce, Loomis and Saxby. The committee in charge of the general program consisted of George H. Esser, James Spohn, Harry J. Handy, Thomas P. Abbott, and W. Fleming.

TERRIFIC CYCLONE OF 1911 RECALLED BY CITIZENS HERE

Eight years ago today northern Rock county was writhing from the effects of the terrific cyclone which swept through the county causing nine deaths and property loss aggregating nearly $1,000,000. The disaster occurred late in the afternoon of Nov. 11, 1911.

The path of destruction led a zig-zag course through the north half of the county passing through the outskirts of the city and causing heavy damage to all kinds of property. Ruins of structures demolished on that day are still visible north of the city along the river.

The entire state responded to the call for contributions to the relief fund which was hastily organized to provide money, food and clothing to the families left destitute by the cyclone. The Gazette was made headquarters for the raising of the fund. Approximately $11,000 was subscribed for the relief of the stricken people.

Dark and sultry weather which featured the calm preceding the outbreak of the storm was followed that night and for several days after by a temperature around the zero mark which made reconstruction work impossible, and added to the misery and suffering of the victims of the disaster.

TRAINING SCHOOL PRAISED AT DINNER

"I regard the training school in this city as one of the best in the state," said Dr. Carter Alexander, assistant state superintendent of schools, in his address at the training school this noon.

"The instruction, the organization, and inside equipment is good," Mr. Lewis is thorough in his criticism of this school. He is rated in the first group as a principal.

"The Best Investment" was the subject of the address which Dr. Alexander gave.

"The best investment, it seems to me, of any county is its education."

"The great source of wealth in Rock county is something which we could put in half of this room. It is the matter of the little children of this county. Its wealth is wrapped up in the development of the minds of those children."

"Suppose you want desirable people to locate in your county. Will they want to live here if the schools are not good?"

"Schools are of little value unless taught by good teachers. Good values cannot be received from the school unless they are under the guidance of thoroughly equipped teachers."

"The proposition of getting teachers in our rural schools is a serious one. The wages at the poor living conditions have been the chief reason for the scarcity. Twenty-five students graduated from this school and you are here to supply the schools of this county."

An elaborate dinner was served at noon to the county supervisors and the county board. Miss Ella Jacobson, supervisor, and the students prepared and served the dinner.

Each year the training school entertains the county board. This year the county officers were included.

2 INJURED RESULT OF AUTO ACCIDENT

With serious internal injuries, Mrs. Sam Creek lies at her home, 318 St. Mary's avenue, today as the result of being knocked down by an auto on Saturday morning. The accident occurred in public library late Monday afternoon. She will recover, physicians say.

The car by which she was struck is believed to have been driven by a farmer living east of the city.

Mrs. Creek was about to step into the carriage driven by her mother-in-law Mrs. Frank Creek, when she was struck by the motor car.

Witnesses were traveling at a moderate speed. She was dragged a distance of four feet, suffering bruises on her left arm.

In hurrying to the rescue of the injured woman, Mrs. John G. Rexford, 210 Sinclair street, turned her ankle and broke a rib in the process. She was able, however, to drive Mrs. Creek to a physician's office and later to her home. Mrs. Rexford will be confined to her home for two weeks.

PRODUCTS OF NEW DOTY CO. DESCRIBED

That there are none so ignorant as those who live close by was demonstrated today when members of the Rotary club on their weekly luncheon at the Myers hotel listened to a description of how punches and shears are made and for what purposes they are used given by Victor P. Richardson, president of the New Doty Manufacturing company.

The fact that half the citizens of the community have never visited this plant and probably the majority of other industries was realized today by members of the club.

MANY ATTEND HOG AUCTION IN BELOIT

Many hog breeders from all parts of Rock county went to Beloit today to attend the first annual sale of Duroc-Jersey hogs, this afternoon, under the auspices of the business men of Beloit and the Chamber of Commerce.

Among the well known hog breeders contributing to the sale are E. H. Barker, J. H. Mutchow & Stainke, George Blackman, C. J. Dwyer, Lucy Bros., J. T. Wheaton, E. S. Shephardson, Overton & Son, M. C. Hedges & Son, C. H. Rauenheimer & Starck, and E. J. Topper.

CITY FACES GREAT FUTURE IS KEYNOTE OF TWILIGHT TALKS

Papers liquidating the Janesville Machine company were signed yesterday between the officials of the firm and W. C. Durant, president of the General Motors corporation. Announcement of this event was made last night by J. A. Craig, head of the Janesville Machine company, at the first meeting of the twenty-fourth year of the Twilight club at the Y. M. C. A.

The business of the machine company will be continued as the implement division of the Samson Tractor company. In addition to the present line of farm tools, power farm machinery will be turned out. Prospects for the future are bright. The erection in the near future of a new implement factory to be located at Spring Brook with a floor space two hundred feet long and thirty feet wide and a quarter acre.

Farm trucks will soon be manufactured by the Samson company, he declared, and cars are now being made to produce a farmers' passenger car capable of seating nine passengers, the first one to be ready for sale on the market by July 1, 1920.

Lighting Outfits to Be Made
Lighting outfits in simplified form capable of furnishing sufficient light and power for any size of farm are being made by the Samson company people. The outfit has not found a home, but Mr. Craig explained that it is one of the several "things" still under the hat of Mr. Durant.

As chairman of last night's meeting of the Twilight club, Mr. Craig said, in discussing the topic, "The Future of Janesville," that the future does not lie with his company, although he has the plant here.

"I am being asked daily," he said, "what are you going to do with the property that you have purchased?"

"What are you going to do? What are you going to do with the Janesville Machine company?"

Suburban Homes to Be Built
In further explanation, he stated that the project of building homes on the hill in the vicinity of the tractor plant will develop a beautiful suburban community with homes "fit for the place" of Janesville.

Places will be provided for churches, and playgrounds in accordance with plans which Mr. Craig presented to the city board of health in a conference with Mr. Durant in a conference with the General Motors specialists man on sites, and with the architect.

"Janesville's preparation for a real city does not mean that every citizen must do his part," continued Mr. Craig. "Samson is not here to be represented by size, but as one individual in the city. If you have asked us to help and we are willing to help."

The speaker declared that he believed in Janesville as a city not merely because of the success of his own company but for the reason that there are 73 other manufacturers in Janesville, all turning out first-class products.

Looking Around

VISITS "V" SECRETARY
Jacobson, secretary of the Janesville Wholesale Grocery company of Racine, who has been in the city the last few days as the guest of J. C. Koller, industrial secretary at the Y. M. C. A., returned to his home this morning.

GLASSCO IN CHICAGO
County Agent R. T. Glassco left this morning for Chicago where he will attend the conference of American Confederation of Farm Workers held at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago. He will return to this city Friday.

SOLIE TO LEAVE CITY
S. S. Solie has resigned his position as manager of Brittingham & Hagen Lumber company, and has taken a position in Milwaukee. Mr. and Mrs. Solie will take up their residence in that city the last of the month.

C. O. F. C. RENTS ROOMS
Seven furnished rooms and one suite of light housekeeping rooms were struck by the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. There were 141 visitors at the office and 60 telephone calls.

SEEKS FINAL PAPERS
Rabbi Louis Monksy, Beloit, today made application at the circuit court for the return of his papers. He arrived at New York in 1903 from Russia. Hearing will take place before Judge George Wymon on March 3rd.

NO CHIMNEY FIRES
There was not a chimney fire in Janesville during the month of November.

WIFE DESTROYER HELD
William Michaels is being held at the city jail to await the arrival of an Ashland deputy sheriff tonight. He will be taken to the city to face a charge of wife desertion.

SENATOR MARTIN OF VIRGINIA IS DEAD

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 12.—Senator Thomas S. Martin, the democratic leader in the senate, died today after an illness of several months. He was 72 years old.

SHOPIERE CONDENSERY BURNS TO GROUND

Beloit, Nov. 12.—Five buildings of the condensery of the Tiffany were burned to the ground today entailing a loss of $30,000.

Mrs. Ettie Weirick, chemist at the plant, created the burning building in quest of valuable papers and records. She was dragged to the open air just before a terrific ether explosion occurred where she had been.

Barcelona Lockout Is Virtually Ended Is Report

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Barcelona, Nov. 12.—The lockout by the employers, which had tied up industry here for more than a week, was expected to end today. It was virtually ended as a result of an agreement reached during the night between the masters and men. It was expected the final decision would be made at another conference today.

Honduran Consul and Wife Are Shot by Bandits
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
New Orleans, La., Nov. 12.—Dr. Leopold Cordova, former consul here for Honduras, was shot and killed and his wife dangerously wounded late last night by a bandit. Both were taken to a hospital in the outskirts of the city.

WOLF SCALPS WILL BRING $25 BOUNTY; COUNTY BOARD ACTS

The bounty for scalps of full-grown wolves was raised to $25 today by unanimous vote of the county board of supervisors on the second day of its November session. This is an increase of $15 over the former rate. The bonus for cubs will remain at $6. Under the statute, the state must pay an equal sum to the hunter, to give some thought and money to the hunter.

Supervisor Eli Crall of Center presented the motion. This action was taken because of the increase in sheep, young cattle and chickens in this county.

Entire Sculp Needed.
County Clerk Howard W. Lee informed the county legislators that hunters must make sure to bring the entire sculp when attempting to collect the money, cutting from the back of the ears to the end of the nose.

Care of sick and injured persons who have no money was brought up before the morning meeting by J. A. Denning, Janesville. "Clutter and uncleanliness" was the characterization given to their handling. A committee of five is to be named to investigate reports and present suggestions to the January session for the best methods of giving the proper care.

The question of appointing a county nurse to make regular visits throughout the county with the object of improving health conditions, was put over until tomorrow morning.

City Faces Great Future
If Janesville has been waiting for some reason to forge ahead that reason is here. It is the fact that every citizen in the county is facing its future. That may sound broad, but I know how the General Motors does business; I know how they work. In a large measure, which has not been casting envious eyes on other cities. It will soon occupy their places. Janesville is going to become a motor truck city.

The General Motors is starting to modernize the farm, the greatest of all industries. Only in the last 100 years has the farmer been helped by inventive genius. The reaper and binder have only been given to him in the last 65 or 70 years. With that in mind, the farmer will not be for the Samson company. Can't you men stop and think how you want Janesville to look and act and then think of the way to get it and do your part in making it take its place as it should?

Spiritual Discussions Follow
The sessions which followed the business of the board, were devoted to spiritual discussions. The city was touched on the industrial aspects and the beautiful. A rap was taken at the appearance of the river front on either side of the Milwaukee street bridge by W. H. Dougherty who called it "magnificent." His remarks were received with much applause by the gathering. George Sutherland came back at him with the suggestion that structures be built across the river and thus cover up the so-called blot.

The meeting was attended by 150 of the representative men of Janesville.

Madison Woman Heads Service Star Legion
Madison, Nov. 12.—Mrs. E. H. Van Ostrand, Madison, was elected president of the Wisconsin Service Star legion, at an election of officers this morning.

Edgerton News

Edgerton, Nov. 12.—Edgerton is to have a true evening school to open to the citizens two evenings each week such courses as may be desired. The effort will be made to organize classes in the evening where there is request made for it by eight or more people.

The high school building will be used for most of the work. It will be possible to conduct classes in shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping, English, French, seamanship, drafting, accounting, sewing, cooking.

The Highways and Continental Axl companies have offered their equipment, light and heat to the industrial board. Classes will be conducted in their shops under the direction of skilled mechanics.

The school will begin in about two weeks' time. The industrial board consists of John Rousch, Fred Carrier, Elmer Ebbott and Fred Smith.

Early this fall a large flock of wild swans were often seen on the Edgerton side of Lake Koshkonong. These birds are so rare in this latitude of late that their presence caused much comment and as there is no open season on which they can be killed and all hunters knowing this fact, no apprehension was felt in regard to their safety. But some hunter shot and crippled one of these birds. The wounded one were frequently seen on the land as well as swimming on the water. Knowing that they were helpless and not capable of self protection W. B. Doty asked the conservation commission for a permit for their capture which was granted. The work was done by the aid of a fast motor boat and proved to be no small task. The birds are snow white and graceful. The largest of the two stands when shot and is about half foot long and weighs 25 pounds. They are now in an enclosure at Menhals' orchard and are attracting considerable attention. It is said they are easily tamed and hopes are entertained that they may become domesticated to such an extent that they may be placed in the city park.

One reason why so many people are parting with their Liberty Bonds is because they took the bonds in the first place more as a duty than as an investment.

Perhaps you thought of your Liberty Bond money as almost a gift to your country in a time of great need.

But a Liberty Bond is a genuine investment. It is a bad thing when these bonds find their way into the hands of the rich people only.

We should all take pride in keeping our Liberty Bonds at home. The community will be more prosperous in the long run if we refuse to sell these bonds.

DUMP HUN GUNS IN RIVER

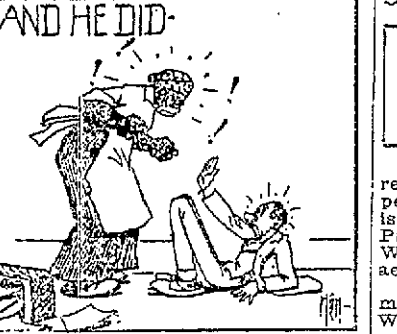

London, Eng.—Four German guns which had been presented to Farnham were removed from a park where they had been placed on exhibition, and thrown into the river. The "cannon party" is said to have been numerous, and, like the Boston tea party of American fame, they worked silently but effectively. Relatives of soldiers slain in the war had protested that the guns were objectionable and unpleasant reminders of their bereavement.

News Notes From Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN

Annette Kellermann, famous for her swimming and her beautiful figure, has been heard of but little since she made three spectacular photoplays which were especially adapted to her talents. She has now organized a company of her own as the Annette Kellermann educational pictures.

Two purposes of their screening, it is announced, will be to instruct women along health and athletic lines and to reveal the manner of life of women in the various countries. This will necessitate a trip around the world by Miss Kellermann and her company. The first picture, though, will be taken in the Yosemite, while the Brunton station in California will be used for interiors. When the first picture is finished, Miss Kellermann will leave with her company for Japan.

Miss Kellermann's first screen appearance was with Universal in "The Daughter of the Gods" and "Queen of the Sea" for Fox. She is a native of Australia, having been born in Sydney. Her early career was spent in professional swimming and diving in the principal cities in Australia, England, France, Austria, Germany, and the United States. She is the holder of many world's records. She later went on the legitimate stage and finally entered vaudeville.

CHAPLIN FILMS REVIVED

Those few people who have not yet been educated to enjoy Chaplin comedies will have a chance to become acquainted with the famous comedian through his earliest successes.

"The Fireman" is announced by the C. Hill and Company, early career Pictures corporation, as the second release of the new edition de luxe, of the Chaplin comedies. Harkback is to the series of 12 Chaplins by arrangement with the Clark Gable corporation.

"The Floorwalker" was the first of the series to be released Oct. 6. Releases on this series extend to Jan. 9, 1921, when the last, "Easy Street," will be placed before the exhibitors.

Everything must be timed just right and proper allowances made for the action of gravity, the wind and other factors," says Hutchinson.

THE SCIENCE OF STUNTS

Stunts must all be figured out mathematically before they're done, says Charles Hutchinson, who starred in "The Great Gambler."

Everything must be timed just right and proper allowances made for the action of gravity, the wind and other factors," says Hutchinson.

WHO'S WHO in the Day's News

DR. FORD A. CARPENTER.

Dr. Ford A. Carpenter of Los Angeles has the distinction of filling the only position of his kind in the United States. He is head of the newly established department of meteorology and aeronautics in the Los Angeles chamber of commerce.

He resigned after 31 years in the government weather bureau service, to apply his knowledge of climatic conditions to the better development of agriculture, horticulture and aerial navigation through practical application of established facts of atmospheric conditions.

In engaging Dr. Carpenter to lead the new department, the chamber becomes active in the development of aerial navigation. Climatic conditions in southern California are such that the chamber believes this section of the country will take the lead in transportation by air. The new department of the organization will co-operate with the two government departments of the weather and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Dr. Carpenter was born in Chicago, March 25, 1888. He has held life public schools there and then went to Dilworth academy and Carson Astronomy observatory. He has been on continuous duty in the U. S. weather service since he was first commissioned assistant observer in the signal corps of the army in 1909.

He has written over a dozen books dealing with war subjects connected with climatic conditions. He won the gold medal for meteorological exhibit at the Seattle exposition in 1909, and a member of the Pan-American Medical congress in 1915. That same year he published his book called "Cloud Studies from an Aeroplane."

Plan Nation-Wide Christian University

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.] New York—The Inter-Church World Movement, the National American with headquarters in this city, have announced plans for the creation of a great nation-wide Christian university. It is the largest plan ever conceived, and will exceed 10,000. It is planned to model the university along the lines of a correspondence college, although the tuition will not be by correspondence, but in the form of lectures. The lecturer will travel to the students instead of the students coming to the university. In December the association plans to hold three-day conferences in practically every state in the union.

Juvenile Crime Increase Blamed on Sugar Shortage

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.] London—Judge Henry Nell of Chicago, father of "Mothers' Pensions," says that the increase in juvenile crime in England is largely due to the sugar shortage. He says the child's appetite demands sugar, so it steals it if it cannot be had otherwise.

Judge Nell found that at the London children's courts 850 percent of the children tried were charged with stealing candy.

The judge says Englishmen have found there is more profit in using sugar for making alcoholic drinks than in selling it direct to the public.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 21 and for the past few years have kept company with a young man of whom I have always thought a good deal. He was in France for about a year and at the time he left we were engaged.

While he was gone I became acquainted with a young man whom I afterwards found I cared for. This fellow was of the same faith I was and a great lover of dancing, which I am also. One day he asked me to marry him. He said if I would consent he would break off his engagement with a girl in his home town whom he had known for years. I consented and we were to be married. Then he received word from his mother that his old girl wasn't expected to live from shock and was heartbroken. He thought the best thing was for him to go back, which he did and is now married.

Now my old friend has returned and has been down every other night until lately. He claimed he still loved me and would overlook my breaking my promise, but he couldn't without the consent of his parents. I gained their consent myself.

For the past few weeks he has been going with another girl and has come to see me. I asked him what was wrong. He said until it was arranged with his people it would be necessary for him to go with the other girl. I saw them again and got their consent. But he is still going with the other girl and hasn't acknowledged that he was going for what I did.

Do you think he still cares for me? What do you think he intends to do?

It looks as if the young man has ceased to care for you. Drop him entirely and do not let him know that you even notice his treatment.

You have done more than your part to win him and have failed. If he ever will come to love again, he will want to marry you without considering the consent of his parents.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 18 and care very much for a boy friend and he cares for me also, but my folks refuse to let me go with him. He is 20 years of age. My father says I am not old enough to go to dances and movies.

I have a brother 16 and my father won't let him take me any place. Would you advise me to remain at home and do as my father advises, or leave home?

It seems to me that you are old enough to go out at least once in a while with a young man. Since your father objects, however, you are in a difficult position. Do not harp on the subject. Submit to his wishes for a while and then appeal to him again. It would be unwise to leave him for a year or two.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a boy for about four months. His birthday comes in a few months. Is it proper for him to give me a present? BLUE EYES.

You should not give him a present. You might, however, make him some candy or send him a birthday greeting.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 24 years of age and in love with a boy 19. He says he is in love with me and insists that I marry him. Do you think it would be proper to consent to his request?

UNCERTAIN.

It seems to me that such a marriage would be out of the question. The young man is several years too young for you.

EVERYDAY HELPS

BY GRANDMOTHER WELLS

There are four kinds of dried fish which are adaptable for use as the main dish of a meal. They are salt mackerel, codfish, herring and salt mackerel. Before using in any of the following ways, put fish in a cold water and bring to the boil. Drain and pat dry. Then fry in a hot pan with a little oil and butter. Then fry in a hot pan with a little oil and butter.

Fish can be broiled and served with rice, potatoes, corn and apples. It is a good idea to have a hot water bottle on a hot water bottle.

Codfish is a particularly economical food. It can be had in whole, or shredded. To make a good breakfast dish put a dried codfish in cold water and let it come to the boil. Drain and pat dry. Then fry in a hot pan with a little oil and butter. Then fry in a hot pan with a little oil and butter.

of a cup of flour sifted with one teaspoonful of baking powder, season, and drop by spoonfuls into a pan of hot fat.

Herring is useful for giving flavor to omelets, soups, and stews. It is a good idea to have a hot water bottle on a hot water bottle.

Salt mackerel may be baked in milk for breakfast—half a cup of milk, required, and the baking mackerel, and a pinch of pepper. Or it is good broiled and served on a platter with a ring of raw-fried potatoes around it.

For a variation from the canned style, smoked salmon may be used. It can be creamed, scrambled with eggs, or made into flat cakes with mashed potatoes. Have a hot water bottle on a hot water bottle.

She Married an Average Man

By ZOE BECKLEY.

I have not yet found courage to tell Jim that Eric Sand is coming to America and that he will be visiting the artist, Peter Landis, not half a mile from our house. Nor have I mentioned it to Alice. But, though, of course, she will learn through Jim that Eric is an old friend of mine whom he has never seen.

Each day I say to myself: "I'll tell him tonight," and each night, for some reason or other, it seems impossible. Since the last ball Jim has been so near—less than a mile from our house and I am in a real dilemma. Yes, I firmly write "no" for Jim, for I do love my husband.

Sometimes I think a woman cannot help loving the man she lives with, the man who depends on her for so many things, even though she does not respond to all the qualities that make up his character or personality. Women love whatever belongs to them, whether it is a favorite teacup, a husband, a gown or a kitten. Yet so strongly complex is a woman, and so hungry for the love that is denied her, that she can rarely help reaching out for it. Even while she keeps the other. There is maternal love, platonic love, romantic love, but I must stop this tiresome thinking, thinking, thinking.

It is fortunate I have my work. It keeps me from utterly losing my balance. Every morning the boy from the "Messenger" office brings me a stack of letters.

Some are just stupid. Some show the awakening of a thought that gropes for guidance. Some are pathetically funny. Some merely ridiculous and many sad. The "Messenger" must have a varied subscription list, for among the correspondents are factory girls, society buds, business women, wives, mothers and—men.

"Father of Three" writes to ask advice on what to do to make his wife get over her infatuation for the chauffeur and take care of her home and children.

I answered, urging him to search out the cause of the chauffeur's attraction for the wife, and to find out if he, the husband, either lacked it or allowed it to be obscured by qualities which the poor fellow's wife valued. So interested did I get in elaborating my answer that I failed to see at the time how much like my own husband the poor fellow was.

But, after all, a person cannot remake his character. The real tragedy of marriage is when a husband or wife sees love slipping away, with no chance of staying it. When a man or woman falls out of love with one, yet no other love is there, marriage does not become a failure.

The couple "gets along." They continue to live together somehow, and people say: "Oh, it's an average happy marriage."

But we come when, at the moment of the old love's death, a new love rises. When the wife turns unsatisfied from the husband and seeks the sympathetic eye of a chauffeur, for instance. Or an Eric Sand.

What am I writing! There's Jim's key in the latch. There's Jim's hand on my shoulder. I shall tell him now. (To be continued.)

GIRLS OF TODAY

BY HELEN RANDOLPH

The government, in treating shell-shocked soldiers, has recently used music to great advantage. Soldiers who could be reached in no other way after terrifying experiences in the world war, responding to the soothing effect of the music.

A small war I have treated myself when over-tired ever since I learned to play the piano. For there is something about good music that leaves no room in the mind for anything but elevating, stimulating thoughts that have a direct effect upon depression and physical and mental fatigue.

Do you not feel this some time? Perhaps you have had a hard day in household management or at the office, and are so tired that you feel it impossible to attend to the concert you had planned to hear. But the thought of the famous musician who is to sing spurs you on, and you go to the first number, your fatigue disappears. At the close of the concert you are refreshed in mind and body, and wonder how you could have considered missing such a treat.

The man or woman who does not feel uplifted by hearing some truly good music is to be pitied for he misses one of the greatest and most ennobling influences in life.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Dear Miss Randolph: I want to attend a performance of grand opera and have no one with whom to go. My mother thinks I should not go by myself. Would this be improper? ELIZABETH.

Not improper at all, in my opinion, if you can find anyone to accompany you. If you enjoy the performance quietly and attract attention in no way, there is no reason why you should miss such a pleasure as hearing his opera, if you have some way of getting home afterward.

Dear Miss Randolph: I have been happily married three years and have a baby a year old. Until recently my husband and I had few quarrels, but lately we have disagreed because I think he should help take care of the baby when he comes home in the evening. He says he is tired, and wants to do something else. Don't you think he should help?

THIS OPENS A MUCH-MOVED QUESTION. Of course your husband is tired when he comes home from business and he should have time to read and relax, if possible. But equally, of course, the wife is tired too, and has had charge of the baby all day, so she also needs rest. It is a matter of mutual consideration. If the child should be in bed and asleep when the father comes home, or at least shortly afterward, why not train the baby to an early bedtime, which would give both husband and wife an opportunity to enjoy a quiet evening?

Snowfall is Heavy.
Superior.—More than half as much snow has fallen here this winter as fell during the entire winter of 1918-1919, according to records kept in the city hall. The total snowfall so far is 18 inches.

EMBROIDERY AND FUR TRIM DRESSY AFTERNOON SUITS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author.

By FLOISE.

For the woman who is not too particular to the one-piece frock and suit is a matter of earnest consideration. The question is not so much what shall be the material for their scant choice, but how shall it be built to fit her figure. There is such a wide range of design this season that, unless a woman has unerring bad taste, there is no excuse for her selecting an unsuitable model.

The plain and strictly tailored suit with a full neckpiece is most highly favored for morning wear and for afternoon. It is in the latter, of course, that most of the variety in design is to be found.

The suit pictured is a happy medium between the severely tailored and the ornate. It is fashioned of Havana brown peach bloom cut on rather unfitted lines but long and then in a narrow belt crosses in the front and fastens at the sides forming a waistline for the coat. The large collar which may be worn fastened up closes about the throat and is also made of the embroidered material and the kolinsky. The large hat helps to give the dressy appearance which an afternoon suit should have.

Stuffed with fullness, cut celery and pineapple. Hothouse grapes cut in halves. Serve cream mayonnaise and strips of green or red peppers.

WAYS TO COOK "SWEETS." It is not necessary to limit the manner of serving sweet potatoes to the familiar boiled product, as is shown by the following recipes for giving variety to this favorite fall vegetable.

Candied Sweet Potatoes.—Peel and cook sweet potatoes until tender, then place in baking dish. Cover with syrup made from one cup of sugar and one-half cup of water cooked to thickened and bake in oven until a rich brown.

Sweet Potato Croquettes.—One pint mashed sweet potatoes, two tablespoons butter, one-eighth teaspoon white pepper, one-half teaspoon salt, yolk of one egg.

Mix together all the ingredients except the yolk of the egg and mix well. Rub through a sieve and add stuffed with fullness, cut celery and pineapple. Hothouse grapes cut in halves. Serve cream mayonnaise and strips of green or red peppers.

Stuffed Potatoes.—One cup cooked pumpkin, one tablespoon flour, one pinch salt, one-half teaspoon nutmeg, one egg, one-half cup sugar, one cup milk. This is enough for one pie.

Stuffed Peppers.—Mix well moistened bread crumbs, ground beef, partially cooked rice and salt. Stuff peppers which have been washed and seeds taken out with this mixture. Place peppers in casserole and cover with tomato sauce. Bake one hour.

For six peppers (which make two meals) use two slices of bread, one-half pound meat, one-half cup rice, lettuce and Cheddar cheese.

Let these three stand and mix mayonnaise dressing, lettuce leaves. Line salad plates with lettuce leaves. Cream the cheese, add mayonnaise to moisten and the olives finely cut mix together. Roll into balls and place upon lettuce. There should be about three or four small balls to each plate. Place a teaspoon of mayonnaise in the center and garnish with a small sprig of parsley.

EGGLESS MAYONNAISE.—Place in a vegetable dish or on a soup plate two teaspoons of evaporated milk, one-half teaspoon of mustard, one-half teaspoon of paprika.

Beat to froth thoroughly and then add one cup of salad oil, beating hard while adding the oil. When thick and creamy add one teaspoon of sugar, three-quarters teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of vinegar or lemon juice.

Boat to blend. The oil may be added much faster in making this dressing than when it is made with the yolk of an egg, and if it is placed in fruit jar and covered and set in a cool place it will keep for three weeks.

Sliced Baked Sweet Potatoes.—Fill baking dish with potatoes, add salt, pepper and butter to taste, sugar or syrup, a few drops of water; put in oven and bake until tender.

Health Talks

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address: Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

THE MENTAL CONDITION OF TABETICS (7)

The influence which often makes the individual who is potentially liable to the invasion of nervous tissues by the spirochetes develop tibiae (locomotor ataxia) is mental stress. This is the view of an American physician whose success in the restoration of the use of the muscles of tibiae is generally recognized as unconventional. The first step in treatment, then, is removal of the burdens the patient carries on his mind, mostly burdens of anxiety or fear about himself, his symptoms, his future condition and his helplessness. The patient must be taught to rest. To bring about a degree of relaxation which the nervous tension of such a patient commonly prevents, the following procedure is suggested by Dr. William J. S. Maloney, whose monograph on locomotor ataxia, Sanskrit to the lay reader, should be in every doctor's library.

1.—The patient is instructed to breathe slowly, smoothly and deeply and to pause momentarily at the end of inspiration and expiration for 2 seconds. With attention thus focused on the sensations felt in various stages of the breathing act, the patient gradually passes to breathing of moderate amplitude. The breathing is abdominal in type (a palm resting on the abdomen emphasizes this), slow in rate, uniform in rhythm and every part of the patient's thoughts with extraneous thoughts excluded from the mind. Gradually the breathing passes from moderate to gentle breathing. There comes a general relaxation or letting go which favors rest.

2.—The physician now begins to procure complete muscular flaccidity, by manipulating each joint in succession, first stretching the muscles slowly and steadily and next relaxing them. This is kept up, with occasional returns and repetitions of the joints, until the limbs are limp. The scalp, forehead, face and jaw muscles are similarly manipulated.

This training usually begins with several 10-minute sittings at short intervals. Eight or 10 lessons suffice to teach the whole procedure to any intelligent attendant. The principle of the method is grasped when it is realized how essential complete relaxation and rest is for the welfare of the patient. This applies not only to patients with locomotor ataxia, but with equal force to patients with St. Vitus' Dance, stuttering, occupation palsies such as writer's cramp, or telegrapher's cramp, and spasmodic tic or habit spasms.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Playing With Dynamite.
Kindly tell me what effect arsenic and strychnine would have on the health taken three times a day for a long period. (E. S.)

ANSWER.—Like many valuable remedies, these are powerful poisons and I advise you not to fool with dynamite. If you take arsenic or strychnine or both, let it be under your physician's direction, and control.

Height and Weight.
Kindly give the correct weight of these persons should have:
Man aged 29 years, height 5 feet 7 1/2 inches; Man 22 years, height 5 feet 3 inches; Woman aged 27 years, height 5 feet 7 inches; Woman aged 21 years, height 5 feet 7 inches. (J. P.)

ANSWER.—The weights should be 150, 150, 136, and 133 pounds, respectively. Variations of less than five pounds from these figures are not abnormal.

Bringing Up Father.
My father, aged 63, had an injury to his nose years ago, which left him in a bad way. He has always refused to have an operation done. He says "some one would practice on him." Still, he has written about surgeons getting experience by learning such operations on himself. Would it be wise to have an operation for relief of nasal obstruction be advisable at his age? (C. C.)

ANSWER.—Yes, if his general condition is all right.

The Nails and Hair.
How often should a person wash the hair and what do you advise for the shampoo? My scalp and hair are extremely dry and the hair is falling out. It is also some dandruff. Can you suggest a remedy? (G. B.)

ANSWER.—Shampoo with plain soap, as often as necessary to keep the scalp and hair clean, even though it be twice a week, but be sure to rinse soap away thoroughly after the shampoo by repeated rinsing first with warm and then with cool water. Send stamped addressed envelope for detailed advice about the treatment of dandruff and falling hair.

one teaspoon chopped parsley. Shake into smooth balls, dip in bread crumbs, then in beaten egg, then in crumbs again. Fry in deep hot fat. Sweet Potato Souffle.—Four sweet potatoes, one teaspoon salt, two teaspoons powdered sugar, cream, one-half cup, broken peanuts, one-third cup raisins, two eggs (whites), one and one-quarter tablespoons butter. Cook and mash sweet potatoes. There should be one pint. Add salt, pepper, sugar and cream to masher. Beat thoroughly, add peanuts and raisins, cut in pieces and fold in egg whites beaten stiff. Pile lightly in casserole. Put melted butter over top and bake until puffed and brown.

Punch.—Place in a large punch bowl a piece of ice and then add one small bottle of maraschino cherries, two quarts of grape juice, three pints of water, two oranges cut into bits, one-half pound of marshmallows cut into bits. Mix and then serve.

LONDON LENGTHENING AND PARIS CUTTING OF SKIRTS.
London, Eng.—While we are making longer skirts and are having a big coat and skirt winter season, Paris is making very short ones, and there are good reasons for this, declares the leading West End ladies' tailor of this city.

The great demand seems to be for our ankle-length skirts and for coats that come down about four inches above the bottom of the skirt. The preference also is for men's coats that are full about the hips, giving a hoop-like appearance. The actual skirt itself is as light and narrow as ever. The reason there are good reasons. Why? Because. That is the only reason they give, if that can be termed a reason.

PARTS STOCK AND MODEL "D" EACH WIN IN SAMSONS

With grand totals differing in one match by only six pins and in the other by 25, the Model "D" Assembly and the Parts Stock Bowling league showed the same good form at the West Side alleys last night. The games were the first real test to show what the league has as material. Parts Stock took two of the three and Model "D" Assembly the same.

As is happening often in the local games, one of the teams ran up a higher margin than its opponent, yet lost two. Speech was high man of the night with 194, rolling for Model "D". His average of 167, however, was bested by Schields of Model "D" with 168. Schields was highest for the Parts Stock-Test Room game.

FOUR MORE TEAMS IN SAMSON LEAGUE

Four more teams have been added to the Samson Bowling League. It was announced this morning by L. D. Y. Collins, in charge of athletic work at the plant. This brings the total to 16, the new ones representing Dupont, Walters, Dupont Service Department, Samson Accounting and the Personnel.

Six teams in the league have not yet played games. Some of them will meet tonight. Those still to play are electronics, Cost & Time, Personnel, Dupont Walters, Dupont Service Department, and Samson Accounting.

The highest score in the league is held by Schuler with 212.

Baseball Magnates Fail To Hold Meeting Tuesday

New York, Nov. 12.—Contrary to expectations no meeting of the national baseball commission was held here on Tuesday. Despite rumors to the contrary it was stated that President Johnson of the American league is in Chicago and is not expected to arrive here until the end of this week. President Heydler of the National league said that so far as he knew there would be no meeting of the commission at this time.

BRINGING UP FATHER

By George McManus.

STRIKE! NOW IT'S CADDIES WHO WANT HIGHER WAGE SCALE

(BY BUD WILLIAMS)
Though golf is just beginning to reach the masses—figures of many cities showing that the clerk, the small business man and others are playing along with the millionaire and spendthrift—the caddies of San Francisco plan to check it. The strike for higher wages!
It used to be the case that caddies were plentiful. There were more boys than players. But in recent years—especially since the war—caddies have been scarce. And now they promise to be as scarce as hen's teeth.
Like office boys, caddies promise to go out of style. A few strikes will kill the business of being a caddy.
What with tips, a decent wage, and all the balls a caddy can find and sell again, golfers believe that caddies are not in danger of starving. San Francisco caddies think otherwise. They have struck and are determined not to do any caddying until they get a higher wage scale, shorter hours and better treatment.
Get ready, golfers, to carry your own bags and do your own hunting for balls in the rough. The caddies have got the strike habit.
won from Hugh Hest of Toledo, 50 to 46 in 74 innings.
Otto Reisel of Chicago, defeated Byron Gillette of Buffalo, Tuesday afternoon by the score of 60 to 17 in 46 innings.
Jesse Lean of Cincinnati, won from Tiff Denton of Kansas City, 50 to 37, in 59 innings.

ARCADE CONTINUES WINNING STREAK IN CITY LEAGUE

Continuing its streak of victories, the Arcade quintet overthrew the Rails last night at the Arcade alleys in the City league tournament for three games straight. They also had the margin of 140 pins. In the other match of the evening, the teams of the rival newspapers, the Gazette and the News, battled with a victory of two games to one for the Gazette.

Some good scores were marked up in the contests when Nelson of the Gazette twice rolled 213, Kueck of the Gazette 213, and Grove of the Arcade 211. The high averages were Nelson in the Arcade-Rails game, with 193, and Paulus in the same match with 188.

TRAPSHOTS CHOOSE WORKING COMMITTEE

New York, Nov. 11.—Trapshooting in the United States and Canada next year will be supervised by a joint committee of 10 members, five representing the amateur associations and five from the executive committee of the American Trapshooting association, which concluded its annual meeting here on Friday.

The amateur representation comprises Jay Clark, chairman, Worcester, Mass.; E. P. Matthews, Anacosta, Mont.; Samuel S. S. Foster, Mason City, Ia.; Ralph H. Spotts, New York, and M. D. Hart, Richmond, Va. The other members are H. T. Keller, New York; J. L. Clark, New York; C. W. Hyman, Wilmington, Del.; J. L. Squier, Cincinnati, and F. G. Drew, New Haven.

The committee will meet here on Dec. 2 to formulate plans for the coming year.

Brader Has Punch

JIM BRADER
Jim Brader is one of the solutions to the Badgers' line problem, which was the chief worry early in the season. Since the experimental state of the Ripon and Marquette games, Jim has been more or less of a fixture in the forward wall. He is an aggressive player who always has a punch, and Coach Richards is expected to use this big Madison boy in the line in most of the remaining games.

DOWNPOUR STOPS BUCKEYE PRACTICE

Columbus, O., Nov. 12.—Wet weather continues to hamper the Buckeyes. A steady downpour made it impossible to scrimmage on the field, so the lighter forms of practice were resorted to. Dr. Wilce's men were far off form against Purdue on Saturday. The absence of Center Holtcamp and End Flowers was felt, but the Purdue men. So far Ohio State has not had to open with many plays, but a bag full of corking good tricks may have to be unloaded at Madison this week. If not they will welcome the Illinois team the following week.

Madison, Nov. 12.—Next Saturday Wisconsin university will face on the football field, the only team of the Big Ten which is as yet undefeated. This is the Ohio State university eleven. Strong in every branch of offensive and defensive work, with the team a unit in support of Capt. Chick Harley, greatest of America's halfbacks, Ohio is probably a strong adversary to Wisconsin has met this year.

Both teams have everything to fight for. A loss to Ohio would probably stamp out its chances for final conference honors. If Wisconsin loses, her last forlorn chance of being big man in the Big Ten is gone definitely and finally.

The Badgers are hard at it on the field at Camp Randall, practicing in secret on plays which will combat Coach Jack Witte's wonderfully perfected organization. With two weeks of rest and with not a crumble on the team, Wisconsin will be a worthy match for the Buckeye eleven.

Coach Richards is devoting much attention to preparing for the marvel halfback, Harley, drilling the Badgers in meeting the Ohio man's brilliant running. Harley is adept in throwing off tacklers. He is versed in all the arts of the football runner, skilled with the stiff arm, speedy on his feet, swift in dodging, and hard to down.

Harley is figured as strongest in right end runs. The Badgers will be strengthened and drilled to meet his attack. Local rooters are confidently predicting a Badger comeback which will further upset the dope in the already scrambled Big Ten percentages.

Harley is the strongest man on the Ohio team, has perhaps no equal in the conference eleven, but Ohio is not a one man organization. Stinchcomb, in the backfield, is a consistent ground gainer, and the line offers a strong front for the backs.

Wisconsin has an organization which is bound to make Saturday's game at Madison an interesting one. Meyers and Weston, the two ends, are both brilliant tacklers and are counted on to administer a disappointment to Ohio's flank movements. Sunda can always be depended on to take the ball out of danger with a punt. Elliot has been showed up well, and Davey, quarterback, the same. The line offered a weak opposition to Minnesota's line, but work wonders in this department.

The Ohio-Wisconsin game is touted as one of the best gridiron exhibitions the Big Ten has to offer.

PRINCE OF WALES AT HORSE SHOW

New York, Nov. 12.—The Prince of Wales and Sir Thomas Lipton are among the prominent persons for whom box reservations have been made for the national horse show in Madison square garden, Nov. 17 to 21. Entire proceeds will go to the Salvation army. The total entry in all classes is 1,505. John R. Towson, prominent New York horseman, will act as one of the judges with James G. Marshall and John M. Bowman.

JACKSON NOW LEADS IN BILLIARD MEET

Cleveland, Nov. 12.—Playing sensational billiards, Clarence E. Jackson of Detroit, Tuesday night defeated Charles McCourt of Cleveland, 50 to 38 in 38 innings and took the lead in the three cushion billiard championship tournament of America. It was the fastest game of the tournament.

Jackson scored 26 points in 10 innings, his high run being 6. McCourt's high run was 10, also a record for the tournament.

Pierre Maupome of Milwaukee, won from Hugh Hest of Toledo, 50 to 46 in 74 innings.

Otto Reisel of Chicago, defeated Byron Gillette of Buffalo, Tuesday afternoon by the score of 60 to 17 in 46 innings.

Jesse Lean of Cincinnati, won from Tiff Denton of Kansas City, 50 to 37, in 59 innings.

ENABLED HIM TO STAY ON THE JOB

Eats Anything, Sleeps Like a Log and Works Hard Every Day, Now.

"If it had not been for Tanlac I would have had to quit my job," said Andrew Chachula, R. F. D. 5, Box 42, West Allis, Wis., while in the Central Drug Store, Milwaukee, recently.

"My stomach was in horrible shape hardly eat a thing at all, and what little I did force down caused me awful suffering," continued Mr. Chachula. "I would have the worst sort of cramps in my stomach, and gas would form and cause pains in the region of my heart. I could hardly breathe and had a choking feeling in my throat. I also had severe pains across the small of my back and I could hardly bend over, and when I did I would have trouble straightening up again. I had terrible headaches nearly every day, and when they came on me I would have to quit work and go home. I could sleep but very little because of the pains in my stomach and head, and lots of nights I would sleep only about an hour, and would get up in the morning feeling all ragged out."

"I became so weak and run down I was on the point of quitting work altogether when I read in the newspapers of the good Tanlac was doing others. I got me a bottle and began taking it right away, and I began at once to get better, and after taking several bottles I am like a new man. I have a fine appetite and I never have a hint of headache. I sleep like a log and get up in the morning feeling fine. I have never had to lay off from work a single day since I began taking Tanlac and can do more work in one day now than I could in two or three days before taking this medicine."

TANLAC is sold in Janesville by all leading druggists—Advertisement

CAINVILLE CENTER

Why Worry about SUGAR? Your Grocer has Lots of Karo

FOR cooking and baking Karo is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes use mostly Karo instead of sugar. It is sweet, of delicate flavor and brings out the natural flavor of the food.

Nothing better than Karo for candy making. For successful preserving use Karo fifty-fifty with sugar or use straight Karo if preferred.
